HOC SIGNO FORTUNA.

BALTIMORE, THURSDAY, March 6, 1823.

Grand Drawing for the 20th!

At the drawing of the STATE LOTTERY yesterday afternoon, there was an unusually large concourse of spectators assembled, in consequence of the very interesting state of the scheme, and in expectation of some of the large Floating capitals coming out—nothing however, was drawn higher than One Thousand dollars. The next drawing, which will complete the lottery, will take place on THURSDAY, the 20th of this month, when the following capital and minor prizes MUST BE DRAWN. It will be a splendid distribution, viz:—

1 prize of 20,000 is	$20,000
2 prizes of 10,000 is	20,000
1 prize of 5,000 is	5,000
6 prizes of 1,000 is	6,000
22 prizes of 100 is	2,200
48 prizes of 50 is	2,400
84 prizes of 20 is	1,680
2077 prizes of 10 is	20,770

2241 prizes, amt'g to $83,050

We have still on hand tickets and shares, though we would advise an early application. Orders should be forwarded immediately. There will be no delay of the drawing—It will positively take place on the 20th inst. as advertised, agreeably to our accustomed punctuality. Whole Tickets, $15—Halves, $7 50—Quarters, $3 75—Eighths, $1 87, all warranted undrawn.  ORDERS, enclosing the cash or prize tickets, post paid, will meet the most prompt attention, addressed to

J. I. COHEN, Jr.—Baltimore.

 Adventurers who wish to receive a list of the drawing, will mention it when they send on their orders.

The New Lotteries.

The WHOLE TICKETS in the new schemes of the STATE and MONUMENT LOTTERIES, are now ready for sale at COHEN'S OFFICE. Our SHARE TICKETS are in preparation, and will be ready by the time that the present State Lottery is completed—say, on the 20th of THIS MONTH, so that adventurers who draw small prizes, can have them immediately invested in either of the new lotteries; the schemes of which will be found on the 4th page of this day's Register. The day for drawing will be announced as early as possible.

Foreign Bank Bills.

The Banks in Baltimore (with the exception of the Bank of Maryland, Franklin Bank, and the Branch of the U. S. Bank) are now receiving on deposit, the notes of the Bank of the Valley in Virginia, and all its branches; the notes of the Branch of the Farmers' Bank of Virginia at Winchester, and the notes of the District of Columbia.

On reference to our list of Exchange in this day's Register, no change will be perceived in the rates of the above mentioned Banks, as the restrictions under which the Banks in this city receive them on deposit, will prevent their being considered as at par value with the Baltimore bills.

Our harbour is still much obstructed with ice, but it is expected it will be cleared in the course of the week. Last year, on the first day of March, the steam boat line between Baltimore and Philadelphia, commenced running—but now the boats are still lying at the wharf—the owners inform us, however, that they will probably start to-morrow. [Patriot.]

The Legislature of Maryland has rejected the bills for making the Governour and Members of the Senate elective by the people.

A bill passed both houses, that pledges the state to subscribe fifty thousand dollars to the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, whenever two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars shall have been subscribed by other persons, of bodies politic or corporate.

CUBA—GREAT BRITAIN.—The Richmond Enquirer states, on the authority of a gentleman at Washington, that the rumour of England being about to take possession of Cuba, is entirely groundless—and that so far from it, Mr. Canning, it is said, has made an official communication to the government of the United States, that the British government would consider itself disgraced, were it to avail itself of the present condition of Spain, to aggrandize herself by the dismemberment of the Spanish territories.

THE SHAKERS—The society of Shakers, was first known in England in 1747, and in this country in 1776. At present, as appears by an article in the North American Review, there are fourteen or more societies in this country, and the whole number of Shakers is computed to be 6000 in the United States. They devote themselves principally to agricultural pursuits, and their lands which are held in common, are valued at about $800,000.

WASHINGTON CITY, February 28.

THE SUPREME COURT.—Mr. Chief Justice Marshall delivered the opinion of the Court in the case of Johnson and Graham's lessee vs. McIntosh. The court affirmed the judgment of the District Court of Illinois, upon the ground that individuals could not derive title to lands by grants from or contracts with the native Indians, without the authority of government.

The case of the lessee of Johnson and Graham against McIntosh this day decided by the Supreme Court, from the great importance of the subject matter in controversy, seems to require rather a more detailed notice than it is usual, or even possible, in general to take of questions argued before that tribunal. The claim of the Plaintiffs, it is understood, embraces a tract of land of upwards of fifty millions of acres, in the vicinity of the Illinois and Wabash rivers, and is founded upon two grants made by the Indians in the years 1773 and 1775. The principal question arising in the cause was as to the validity of the titles of individuals derived under such grants, against persons claiming by purchase under the United States. In the discussion of this question, many important subjects were introduced by the counsel concerned, and investigated with great ability.

In one of the most luminous and satisfactory opinions we recollect ever to have listened to, the Chief Justice went into an examination of the origin of all the titles of European colonists to lands in this country. He shewed that, without exception, they are referred to discovery, as the origin of their respective claims—that this had been recognised by the United States in all its acts, and whatever might be its abstract character, all title to land in the United States must now be considered as resting upon this basis. It was therefore a point not to be controverted in any court of justice in this country. This right of discovery vested in the sovereign of the state by which it was made, the exclusive and absolute right, as among other European nations, to purchase of the Indians, or to acquire the soil by any other mode. It was not incompatible with the Indian title, but superior to it, and no individual or country could acquire any interest in the soil, without the sanction of that sovereign. The conclusion, therefore, to which the Court arrived was that as the claim of the Plaintiff never had received the sanction of the sovereign, it did not constitute a right which could be supported in a court of justice.

Other collateral points were introduced and discussed with the greatest ability, but the foregoing we consider as a brief abstract of the leading views of the court.—Washington Republican.

Domestic Intelligence.

NEW-YORK, February 28.

Unprecedented Despatch.—The packet ship Amity, Captain S. Maxwell, came to the wharf on Friday afternoon the 21st inst. at 1 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon, the 27th, she was again entirely ready for sea. Thus in five working days, (one of which was a very stormy one,) she discharged a full cargo of British goods, and took in a full cargo of cotton and flaxseed.

Bliss and White, of New-York, have a novel in press, called "THE WILDERNESS; or, Braddock's times, a tale of the West." Report speaks highly of this effort of American talent.

The Legislature of the State of Georgia, believing that "it doth not comport with justice or expediency to deprive innocent and helpless women and children of the means of subsistence," have passed an act exempting from levies and sale, on account of debts contracted after the first day of March next, the following articles, viz: "Two beds and bedding, common bedsteads, a spinning wheel and two pair of cards, a loom, a cow and calf, common tools of his trade, and ordinary cooking utensils, and ten dollars worth of provisions;" and vesting the property of the same in the Inferior Court, to be appropriated to the benefit and use of said family, so long as the defendant shall remain insolvent.

The South-Carolina races commenced on the 13th ult. The purse of 1000 dollars, on the first day was taken by Ambassador. The second day by Flying Childers, who is considered one of the swiftest horses in the state. He is a native of Virginia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.

FIRE—On Thursday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, the Court-House, at the S. W. corner of Fifth and Chesnut-street, took fire in the roof, which was partly destroyed, along with the cupola which ornamented its top. Although the united efforts of a host of citizens and firemen were exerted to save the building, its walls and the wood work of the different rooms inside are much injured; so much so as will render it necessary to be entirely refitted before any business can be transacted there.—The papers and books belonging to the Mayor's office suffered considerably from the water which fell in torrents through the roof. The fire is said to have originated from the bursting of one of the chimnies. It will be recollected that a similar disaster befel the court-house in Sixth-street, about fourteen months ago.

CONGRESS.—The seventeenth Congress of the United States, concluded its session at Washington City, on the 3d inst.

From the citizens of the United States in general, the managers claim assistance in forwarding their object; for, although local pride in the present instance may be confined to Marylanders, yet NATIONAL PRIDE is common to all—and if America, now so happy, and so flourishing, should, in the course of years, become what Rome now is, our column will live to tell we had a Washington as that of Rome now does to perpetuate the memory of Trajan.
